

John Jay College
of Criminal Justice
1999

A very faint, grayscale background image of a classical building, possibly a temple or a large hall, featuring four prominent columns supporting a classical entablature. The image is intentionally faded and out of focus, serving as a subtle backdrop for the text.

The Graduating Class of 1999.
The Last Class of the Millenium.

Leader Of The Pack!

As the leader of John Jay College, President Lynch is a man who battles great forces to assure that the students of John Jay receive the best education possible. There are many projects that he has undertaken that have helped enhance the quality of student life at John Jay. The latest of his projects was the Phase II project. President Lynch, along with a great supporting pack, which includes V.P. Witherspoon, V.P. Rothlein, V.P. Pignatello and V.P. Diaz, worked long and hard for many years to make Phase II a reality. Although, we as graduating seniors are never going to get to see the new building, we can be assured that future generations of John Jay students will be able to take advantage of it. As we are going along our way to the next phase in our lives, I think we should take a moment to thank the Leader of our pack and hope that he can continue to fight for the students of John Jay for many years to come.

Thank You.

The Graduating Class of 1999.

The Last Class of the Millenium.

STUDENT LIFE

John Jay Students Hard at Work!

John Jay Students Hard at Play!

Club Fair At John Jay!

What's Your Ring Size?

Every year prospective graduates gather around the ring man weighing their options and gold. They try on hundreds of rings in hundreds of patterns, some which list your year of graduation, others list your major; either way graduates look at the gleaming rings anxiously waiting to be officially allowed to wear one.

Student Leaders of John Jay College

With unfaltering dedication, these students give of themselves to assure that the quality of social life that John Jay College students have is preserved at its highest standard. Whether it is defending student rights, or doing entertainment activities, these students go above and beyond the call of duty year after year. We take this time to thank them for their work.

Student Leaders of John Jay College

Student Leaders at John Jay College

A. Doris Odom

Although college is filled with adults, we would be foolish to deny that even the most mature of us needed a little extra attention now and again. Each school has a figure that becomes synonymous with the tough love and maternal traits reminiscent of what occurs in our own homes. At John Jay, that figure is Doris Odom. Tucked away in the Student Activities office, Ms. Odom assists clubs and student government in addition to planning and implementing club fairs and Amateur night.

With obvious devotion and commitment, as demonstrated by her wall of awards, Ms. Odom comes to work everyday with a smile. I ask what keeps her in such good spirits. She says three simple things: "Be a positive thinker, have faith in God and pray everyday." This simple formula will ensure that you have not only a good day, but a good life.

As we stand on the threshhold of entering a new world, we fondly look back at Ms. Odom and we will always view her as a pillar of strength and maternal love.

— The Graduating class of 1999 thanks you for everything.

The last class of millenium.

Office of the President

Dear Graduates:

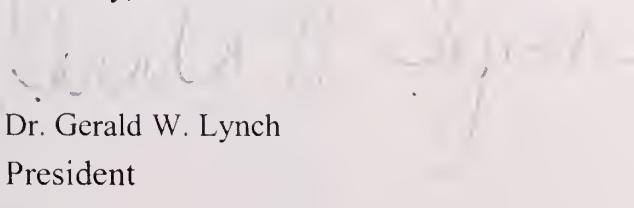

As you graduate from John Jay College you have earned the deep admiration of your family and friends, and all of us at this College. As President of John Jay I am proud to join each of your teachers and all the staff who have helped you in congratulating you. I am aware of what it takes to persevere in the pursuit of a college degree and firmly believe how well your accomplishment will have equipped you to begin your career or to continue your studies for an advanced degree.

I have every confidence that what you have learned here, and the credentials which you take with you, will help you to deal creatively with the complex issues of criminal justice. If anyone recognizes a challenge it is you the graduates of John Jay. So here is my challenge to you: Take what you have learned here and help make society a better place.

I wish you every success and happiness in your future and I hope that you will maintain your ties to John Jay College. In turn, we will continue to offer our assistance in helping you to realize your professional and career aspirations. I suggest you join the John Jay Alumni Association and take advantage of its programs, such as career seminars, and opportunities to network with other alumni who are working in your field of interest.

You the graduates will continue to inspire the students of the future. We look forward to hearing from you, so please keep in touch. Congratulations and good luck!

Sincerely,

Dr. Gerald W. Lynch
President

Office of the Provost and Academic Vice President

MEMORANDUM

March 9, 1999

To: The Graduating Class of 1999
From: Basil Wilson, Provost Basil Wilson

The performance of the American economy over the last eight years is truly astounding. The nation is experiencing its largest economic expansion cycle since World War II. The economic indicators are mind-boggling. Unemployment is approximately 4.4%, inflation is statistically insignificant, job creation remains buoyant, and at the time of writing, the stock market is soaring upwards. This is a great time to be graduating from the college. Graduates should have no problem getting positions in the criminal justice system.

However, despite this economic buoyancy, all is not well in America, and that is particularly the case in the criminal justice system. We have the peculiar situation in certain states that the amount of funds budgeted for the prison system is exceeding expenditures in higher education. If this current trend continues, the prison system, in another couple of years, will be holding over two million people.

One of the traditions that has made America great was the realization that in a democratic society, the legitimacy of the system was enhanced, providing there remained a willingness to invest in people. That is what led to the establishment of the public school system in the nineteenth century and the democratization of higher education in the latter part of the twentieth century.

It is extremely difficult for those who toil within the confines of the criminal justice system to look at it critically. As college graduates infuse the system with a higher level of professionalism, hopefully, a far more critical mindset will be institutionalized. We will need all the creative energy necessary to slow down the burgeoning nature of the prison industrial complex. That should not be that difficult in a time of economic buoyancy.

My warmest congratulations to the class of 1999! Your class is among the best that we have seen, and each one of you has the right to be proud of wonderful accomplishments. Of course success in your curricular activities required hard work and dedication. I hope that you look upon your graduation as a milestone and an important step in the process of lifelong learning.

Some of you will continue your education with advanced studies at either this institution or another, and some of you will move directly into the job market. You may be seeking a career as a police officer, corrections officer, forensic scientist, forensic psychologist or some other profession. Regardless of career goals, our graduates have become leaders in their respective fields. They are sought after by federal, state, and local agencies for their skills and knowledge in the areas of criminal justice and public service. This expertise is a direct result of classroom interaction between our dedicated students and our distinguished faculty. We look to you, the graduating class of 1999 to continue to enhance the College's already extraordinary national and international reputation.

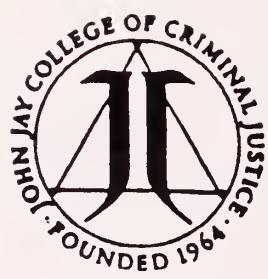

Whatever your field, we hope that you will look back on your years at John Jay College of Criminal Justice with fondness. You are among the select group that was admitted to the College based upon your interests, abilities and potential. Now that you are graduating, we ask you to use all that you have learned to make our world a better place in which we can live. You represent the future leadership of America. Graduation means that you now have the opportunity to move from theory and textbooks to practice and reality. Use your knowledge and skills creatively and wisely. Make a difference in society - and when you do so, let the world know that you are proud to be a John Jay graduate.

Congratulations again and good luck!

Sincerely,

Lawrence Kobilinsky Ph.D.

Dear Graduate:

Congratulations! All of your efforts have been rewarded as you receive your degree. You deserve all of the accolades, which are coming your way. As you revel in your accomplishments, however, I challenge you to continue your education. If you are getting your bachelors degree enroll in graduate school. If you are getting a masters degree, consider a doctoral program. You are this City and country's future. Get you education now and be prepared for tomorrow.

You have earned the right to be proud.

Sincerely,
